NOTES ON THE EDUCATION OF THE DEAF.

A child born deaf, or becoming deaf in early infancy, has on entering school no knowledge of language. The only knowledge he has is purely sense knowledge; he has no knowledge of the significance of words—whether written, spelled on the fingers, or spoken. The hearing child learns to speak by imitating the sounds and words he hears from the people around him, and develops a knowledge of language from his earliest years. When he arrives at school age, he is in possession of an extensive knowledge of the English language, and has received the mental development which is brought about by the acquisition and use of language. The deaf child, because of his deafness, does not learn to speak, does not acquire any knowledge of language, and misses much of the mental development that should be going on from babyhood to the age at which school life begins. He remains in intellectual infancy until he is placed under instruction, and it is desirable that his education should be begun at as early an age as possible, while there is some definite relationship between his mental and physical growth. The greater the gap between these, the more difficult is the work of education, and the highest results are secured in the cases of children who enter school at an early age.

The acquisition of the English language is the basis of the education of the deaf. Instruction in the ordinary school subjects cannot be attempted until the pupil has sufficient language to enable the communication of the necessary ideas, and according to the degree of appreciation of language, which necessarily varies with the varying intelligence of children, is progress made in other subjects. The development of language in a congenitally deaf child has been likened to the acquisition of a foreign language by a hearing person. This, however, is not a suitable illustration. The hearing person has all his knowledge of his native language to assist him in the interpretation of the foreign; whereas the deaf child, cut off as he is by his deafness from all knowledge of the vernacular of his country, has no such assistance.

The aim of the teacher of the deaf in developing a knowledge of language in his pupils is to follow, as nearly as possible, the manner in which the little hearing child acquires his knowledge in the natural way. All our methods and systems are based on the laws governing the acquisition of language by normal children.

There are two main methods of imparting instruction to deaf children—the ORAL METHOD and the SILENT METHOD. In the former, Speech and Speech-Reading are employed, and in the latter the Manual Alphabet; Writing being common to both. The choice of method for individual children is decided from considerations of age, condition, and capability.

The ORAL METHOD seeks to give the child an intelligible speech, and the ability to read from the lips the language of everyday life. The sounds employed in our language are taught separately, in the order of increasing difficulty. As the progress of the child permits, these sounds are combined into words, of which he is taught the meaning, and the words into phrases and sentences, very simple in the early stages, but gradually and continuously expanding.

In the SILENT METHOD, the letters of the alphabet are taught on the fingers. Its aims are similar to those of the ORAL METHOD—the only difference being that Speech and Speech-Reading are not attempted, the Manual Alphabet taking their place as a means of communication and of imparting information.

Both methods abound with difficulties, which continue throughout the whole of the child's school career.

It will be gathered that the work of educating the deaf cannot be compared with that of normal children. No comparison can reasonably be made between the attainments of deaf and hearing children, but there is every prospect that if a deaf child of average intelligence be placed under efficient instruction at an early age, he will, at the end of his school career, be in possession of a satisfactory knowledge of his mother tongue, and have received such instruction in general scholastic subjects as will enable him to take his place in the outside world.

Education for the deaf is an imperative necessity, because—

1. It establishes a means of communication with other people by speech or finger-spelling, and writing; and removes the isolation of earlier years.
2. It develops in the deaf child a knowledge of his mother tongue, and provides him with materials for thought, and with the means of communicating it.
3. It enables him, to a greater or less degree, to avail himself of the opportunities afforded for self-culture by the literature of his country.
4. It develops in him principles of honour, candour and self-respect; and gives him a better and wider outlook on life.
5. It enables him to compete with his hearing fellows in industrial life, and to become a self-respecting and respected citizen; and in many cases prevents him becoming a useless burden on society.

The foregoing statement will give some idea of the magnitude of the work of the education of the deaf, and of the immense issues to the child and to society involved in the question. It will be readily understood that in order to accomplish the best that can be done, a deaf child should be placed under suitable instruction at the earliest possible age. Experience shows that the best and most effective means of educating deaf children is in such an Institution as New South Wales possesses in the Sydney Institution. Parents are naturally reluctant to send their children away from home at an early age; but having regard to the tremendous issues at stake, it is almost inconceivable that they should (as unfortunately some of them do) allow false conceptions of kindness and affection to stand in the way of their child's educational advancement.

FIFTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

New South Wales Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind

FOR THE YEAR ENDED ON SEPTEMBER, 30th, 1915.

The following report on the affairs of the Institution for the past twelve months is respectfully submitted by the Board:—

PUPILS.

The following tabulated statement shows the number of children under instruction during the year and the number on the roll now.

The majority of those who left during the year found suitable employment. Three deaf boys are employed at cabinet-making or other wood-work, three at tailoring, two at boot-repairing, and three at farm work. Two blind boys entered the Sydney Industrial Blind Institution to learn a trade, and one is learning piano-tuning.

The Directors regret to report the death of one of the blind pupils, Donald R. Lee, at his own home on July 26th. He left the Institution for the Midwinter holidays on the 17th June in his usual state of health, but was not well enough to return when school re-opened. Meningitis supervened and he passed away as stated. The Superintendent and several of the blind boys attended the funeral, and the Directors expressed their sympathy with the bereaved parents by a special resolution and a letter of condolence.

On the whole the health of the pupils has been fairly good. There was an epidemic of influenza in May and June, 43 children being affected, and also a few other cases of illness, happily not of a very serious character, and all recovered. For this pleasing result great credit is due to our Honorary Medical Officers for their unremitting care and attention and also to the Matron, Mrs. Clarke (certificated), whose skilful nursing of the children is deserving of the highest praise.

The annual medical inspection of the children was again carried out by Dr. Rennie, who thoroughly examined each child and recorded his observations. He considered the results of his examination very satisfactory, as indicating distinct general improvement in condition.

At the invitation of the Board, and by the kind permission of the Hon. the Minister for Education, Messrs. Beavis and Parkinson, Inspectors, examined the school on the 15th, 16th and 17th September. At their suggestion Mr. John E. Branch, Superintendent of Drawing, Department of Public Instruction, made an inspection of the Drawing. The full text of their reports, which are very satisfactory, is appended hereto for general information.

Further details in regard to the educational advancement of the pupils will be found in the report of the Superintendent, which also shows that our deaf boys have proved their capabilities in the arena of sport and acquitted themselves well.

The children's Annual Sports took place on October 27th and were a pronounced success. Many congratulations on the organisation of the sports and the appearance and performances of the children were received.

In connection with the Empire Day celebration several members of the British Empire League of Newtown attended and patriotic addresses were given by Dr. Bohrsmann and the Superintendent. The senior children again wrote essays in competition for prizes offered by the British Empire League. The adjudicator reported: "The essays produced by the blind children are especially good and I had some difficulty in allotting the places, but my judgment is the result of very careful consideration. The one placed first in the competition by the Blind I consider an essay of great merit." This is a distinction very creditable to the teachers as well as to the pupil concerned.

With regard to the Australia Day movement, our pupils have taken their part. As the result of their efforts the sum of £10/14/4 has been paid in to the Mothers' Thirty Thousand Fund. A contribution of £20 was also made by the teaching staff to the Central Australia Day Fund. Contributions to other patriotic organisations have also been made by the teaching staff and by the children.

The Board desire to express their appreciation of the good work of the Superintendent during the past year.

By direction of the Board the question of the compulsory education of the Deaf and the Blind was again brought under the notice of the Minister for Education by a letter from the Hon. Secretary, dated 11th November, 1914. A reply was received to the effect that a Bill had been prepared to effect certain amendments in the Public Instruction Act of 1880, and that provision had been made in this Bill for the compulsory education of blind and deaf and dumb children. Since then the Directors have had an interview with the Minister (The Hon. Arthur Griffith) and they strongly urged the necessity for the passing of such a measure by Parliament as soon as possible. Mr. Griffith said it was quite certain that the education of the deaf and the blind would be made compulsory. It is very unfortunate there should have been such prolonged delay in the passing of this important measure, as every year there are additional deaf and blind children being deprived of the education they so sorely need. During the past year out of 25 children admitted seven were of ages varying from 11 years to 16 years. It will be readily seen that it is impossible to efficiently educate these children by the time they are sixteen years old, the age at which our pupils ordinarily leave school, and that they are therefore obliged to face the world with an imperfect educational equipment, which is a much greater calamity in the case of the Blind and the Deaf than it is with hearing and sighted children. Once again the Directors of the Institution urge upon the Government the desirability of bringing this matter to a successful issue.

FINANCIAL.

The revenue during the year from subscriptions has been somewhat reduced, doubtless influenced by the numerous calls on the public on behalf of the various war funds.

The income on General Fund Account was...	7274	0	11
The expenditure, including an overdraft of £253/19/9 from the previous year, was ..	7974	1	7
Leaving a deficiency of	£700	0	8

The following amounts were received and placed to the credit of the Perpetual Subscribers' Fund:—£3021/9/8, being balance of legacy from the estate of the late James Wenman Ward, making a total of £4421/9/8; legacy of £500 from the estate of the late Mrs. Janet Coutts; legacy of £100 from the estate of the late Hon. Henry Gullett, M.L.C.; legacy of £100 from the estate of the late James Robinson Love, one of the Vice-President of the Institution; two donations of £50 each from the Trustees of the "Walter and Eliza Hall" Trust, making a total of £250; donation of £50 from Mrs. Benjamin Buchanan, London, making a total of £150; £40 from the estate of the late James Bartlett, making a total of £280; from the estate of the late Miss M. A. Chater, £33/18/10, being balance of a legacy amounting to £389/18/10; and £16/13/4, being first instalment of a legacy of £100 from the estate of the late Hon. Charles Moore, M.L.C.

A legacy has been bequeathed to the Institution by the late Norman Shelley, being one-fourth of six-sevenths of the residue of his estate, but as the legacy is subject to a number of life interests it will probably be many years before the Institution benefits.

There were also received and placed to the credit of the Building Fund Account £228/13/7 from the estate of the late Edward Bennett, being balance of a legacy totalling £2528/13/7; £20 from the estate of the late Mrs. Julia Levy; and sundry special donations amounting to £50. The amount now standing to the debit of the Building Fund is £4992 4s 5d.

Special donations of £50 from R. Winton Gillespie, Esq., £50 from the Grand Lodge of New South Wales of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, and £59/19/3 from the United Charities Fund, were also received for the General Fund Account.

The Directors desire to express their sincere thanks for all these legacies and donations, as well as for the ordinary yearly subscriptions. At the same time they desire to call attention to the large amounts still owing, viz., £4992/4/5 on Building Fund Account, and £700/0/8 on General Fund Account, and respectfully and earnestly invite special donations towards clearing off these two debts, so that the work of the Institution may be carried on with less financial anxiety. When surplus wealth is being disposed of it is to be hoped that the claims of those little ones of the community who are handicapped by blindness or deafness will not be forgotten.

A number of friends in the country districts have again rendered good service by collecting subscriptions, but owing to the many demands for other objects the total is not so large as in previous years. The response to the appeals made by these honorary collectors and by our own collectors, Miss Petersen and Miss Cameron, was, under the circumstances, very encouraging, and, no doubt, will be more so when conditions are normal. The thanks of the Directors are hereby tendered to all who have assisted the Institution either by service or contributions.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE AND HONORARY STAFF.

About two months ago Mr. William Winn resigned his position as a member of the Board. Mr. Marcus Oldham, J.P., has been nominated to fill the vacancy.

It is with very deep regret the Board has to report the death, on the 15th June, of Lady Harris, who had been a member of the Ladies' Committee for 27 years. During that period, until failing health intervened, Lady Harris had taken a very active part in the work of the Ladies' Committee, and had, by her loving sympathy for the pupils and her warm-hearted interest in the welfare of the Institution, rendered very valuable service and endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. A resolution expressing appreciation and sympathy was adopted by the Board and conveyed to the bereaved husband, Sir Matthew Harris, and his family.

Mrs. M. Manson, in May last, tendered her resignation as a member of the Ladies' Visiting Committee, owing to continued indisposition. On the suggestion of the Ladies' Committee, the Board, instead of accepting the resignation, granted Mrs. Manson leave of absence, with the expression of a hope that she would soon be restored to health.

For the assistance so freely given during the year by the Ladies' Visiting Committee in connection with domestic and other matters, the Directors are very grateful and hereby tender their warmest thanks. The Ladies take a keen interest in all that concerns the welfare of the Institution and materially assist the Directors in the internal management and in other directions.

The Directors have, with much regret, to report the death, on the 16th September, of Mr. Percy J. Pratt, who, during a period of eleven years up to the time of his death, had filled the position of honorary solicitor. Mr. Pratt devoted much time and energy to the legal work of the Institution, and the Directors hereby express their high appreciation of, and thanks for, the services so willingly, faithfully and efficiently rendered by him.

Mr. Aubrey Halloran, LL.B., has been appointed honorary solicitor in place of the late Mr. Pratt.

The Institution is under a deep debt of gratitude to all its honorary officers for the important work performed during the past year. The Board highly appreciates their generous and intensely valuable services and has passed a most cordial vote of thanks to the following ladies and gentlemen who constitute the honorary staff:—Dr. George E. Rennie, hon. consulting physician and hon. medical inspector; Dr. Charles P. B. Clubbe, hon. consulting surgeon; Dr. J. C. Halliday, hon. ophthalmic surgeon; Dr. John B. Graham, hon. aural surgeon; Dr. P. Sydney Jones and Dr. E. Selwyn Harrison, hon. physicians; Messrs. A. L. McCredie and Anderson, hon. architects; Messrs. T. W. H. Mackenzie and Henry Pratt, hon. auditors; Messrs. A. G. Gabriel and Henry E. Walker, hon. dentists; Mrs. H. Earlam, hon. teacher of fancy needlework; Miss Gladys McIntyre, hon. teacher of elocution.

OFFICIAL STAFF.

Miss Bromley, a deaf teacher from the ranks of the pupils, resigned her position in April last to be married. To fill the vacancy Miss Thorn, a qualified and experienced teacher of the Deaf, who received her training in England, was appointed.

Miss Marjorie Nicholson was also appointed as junior teacher in the Blind school.

ALTERATIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

The most important improvement during the year has been the installation of a new water service. Owing to the chokage of the old pipes the supply of water to the Institution was very unsatisfactory and was liable to break down at any moment, hence the necessity for a new service. Since this was installed the supply of water has been very satisfactory.

Sleeping accommodation on the girls' side of the house has been increased by the use of two balconies.

A number of minor repairs, painting of woodwork, etc., were carried out during the Midsummer vacation.

GENERAL.

In the "Evening News" of the 20th April there appeared a report of an interview which representatives of the Workers' Educational Association and the Association for the Advancement of the Blind had with the Minister for Education, at which certain statements were reported to have been made which reflected on this Institution. The matter was brought under the notice of the Board, and it was resolved to ask the Minister to receive a deputation in order to place before him certain facts in answer thereto, also in regard to the finances of the Institution, and the provision made for the accommodation and education of the Deaf and the Blind; to call his attention to the reports of the Inspectors of the Department of Public Instruction on the methods of education, the satisfactory advancement of the pupils, and their physical and moral well-being; and to make certain requests. The Minister cordially granted an interview, which took place on the 17th June. He listened very courteously to the statements that were made, thanked the members of the deputation for the information they had given him, said he appreciated very highly the work the Institution had done and was doing, and that as soon as he could formulate a scheme to meet the needs of the Deaf and the Blind he would discuss it with the Cabinet and would grant the Board another interview to further consider the matter.

The question of rendering assistance to soldiers who may return from the war deprived of sight or hearing has been taken into consideration by the Board, and was referred to a sub-committee, which reported that the Red Cross Society had arranged with the Sydney Industrial Blind Institution to deal with all cases of soldiers who return blind, that Institution having every facility for giving instruction in suitable industries and in reading and writing Braille; and, in regard to the Deaf, tuition in speech-reading would be of the utmost advantage to any soldiers who return so afflicted, and that members of the staff, skilled in that special branch of work, had volunteered their services outside of ordinary school hours. The report of the sub-committee was unanimously adopted and the Directors determined that every possible assistance of the nature indicated be given to deaf soldiers, and that the members of the teaching staff be thanked for their generous offer.

Mr. F. H. Dangar, of London, with the generosity which he has exhibited towards this Institution for many years, again provided his annual treat of fruit, cake and sweets. Needless to say his kindness is much appreciated.

Through the goodness of a friend, who does not wish his name to be disclosed, the pupils had a most enjoyable picnic on the 5th November, at The Avenue, Lane Cove River.

Eight handsomely-bound volumes of the Children's Encyclopaedia have been presented to the school library by Mrs. I. D. L. Mackenzie. This beautiful and useful gift was very highly appreciated.

Since January the whole of the boot repairs of the pupils have been carried out in the Institution. This is a new departure. It not only saves expense, but gives the deaf boys manual training of a very useful character.

CONCLUSION.

In commending this report to the subscribers and others interested for careful perusal the Directors again express their gratitude for the assistance which has been so freely rendered during the past year, and which, under Divine Providence, has enabled the work of educating the Deaf and the Blind to be carried on successfully. A continuance and extension of that assistance is earnestly desired and confidently anticipated.

SUPERINTENDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT.

11th October, 1915.

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Gentlemen,—I have pleasure in presenting my Fifth Annual Report.

The year under review has been in most respects a normal one. Apart from an epidemic of influenza of a mild nature, there has been no serious interference by sickness with school routine, and the work of both schools has gone on steadily and well. Absence of individual pupils has been less frequent, and with few exceptions, the parents of our children have loyally co-operated with the school in the effort to prevent educational loss by avoidable absence. The co-operation of parents with the school in its work for their children is a valuable factor; and we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the general attitude of parents towards us and our work.

The number of children admitted this year has been rather above the average, and the age of some of them has been lamentably high. The average age of deaf children admitted has been 8 years 8 months, and of blind children 9 years 2 months. The average age of the children who have left school has been:—Deaf 15½ years, Blind 15 years; and the average time under instruction: Deaf 6½ years, Blind 5 years. I need not point out how serious a loss of school time is represented by these figures; nor need I again refer to the extent to which our efforts are impeded by this condition of things.

It is, however, gratifying to note that the average age on admission of both blind and deaf children is distinctly lower than last year's average and the average for previous years. The average age at which pupils have left school, and the average period under instruction, have, on the other hand, increased; and the greater readiness of parents to send their children to school at a reasonably early age, and to give them the advantage of a longer period under instruction, is a pleasing feature. There is apparently a developing realisation of the educational necessities of the deaf and the blind, and an increasing appreciation of the work of our schools; but these factors, while of great value, are not in themselves sufficient to achieve the desired ends; and it is fervently to be hoped that the renewed promise of the Government to pass an Act providing for the compulsory school attendance of deaf and blind children will be carried into effect. Until this is done, the trouble referred to above must inevitably continue, though it may be to some degree modified by the efforts of those interested in our essential educational problems.

The six open-air class-rooms erected in 1914 have been in continuous use, and have answered their purpose admirably. Thanks to our favourable climatic conditions, there are few days on which they are not tenable, and both teachers and pupils have appreciated the advantages they give over indoor rooms. I have previously referred to the special desirability of open-air accommodation for our particular classes of children; and I need say no more on this point at the present juncture than that our open-air class-rooms are fulfilling my expectations, and are proving a valuable factor in the physical well-being and mental alertness of our children.

Work in the school for the deaf has been extremely satisfactory throughout the year. There has only been one change on the staff, and we were extremely fortunate in being able to secure a fully qualified teacher, in the person of Miss Thorn, to fill the vacancy caused by the marriage of Miss Bromley. The general standard of attainment in the deaf school is distinctly higher. There is a greater language appreciation, and an increased and developing power of expression in language. There has been extension in all language subjects, and the general range of work has shown steady expansion. The lower division of the school is a very bright spot, and there is much promise of future good work in all the junior classes. In the intermediate and upper divisions, substantial progress has been made, and the work is of a more advanced and satisfactory nature than on the occasion of my last year's report. Among other developments, the increased use of the garden for educational purposes may be mentioned, and the extension of the system of observational excursions.

Drawing has been good throughout the year. Effort has been directed on the lines of the previous three years, and the results have been extremely satisfactory. The work of the younger children has been as good as that of corresponding classes in previous years; while in the higher classes, the range of work has been extended, and the standard of execution improved. The general standard of Drawing is distinctly good, and the work of some of the classes particularly so. An increasingly satisfactory use of imaginative and sketch drawing in connection with language work has been made.

Manual work has again been good, and there has been extension in both boys' and girls' classes. General progress has been satisfactory, and the results achieved are distinctly in advance of previous years. Both in Drawing and Manual Work the teachers have shown a keen appreciation of the particular values to the children, and have devoted themselves to the work with skill and energy. The boys' boot-repairing class has done excellent work; and since the beginning of the present year all the repairs for our pupils have been executed in our own boot-repairing room. The deaf girls' cookery class, taught by Miss E. C. Reid, has continued satisfactorily. The fancy needlework class, of which Mrs. Earlam is the honorary teacher, has done extremely well during the year. It is a class in which the girls take much pleasure, and the results secured are of a high order.

We have this year had a sufficient number of young children to form a mixed class in Kindergarten, Manual and Drawing work, with pleasing results.

Owing to the disproportionate number of our deaf children who were born in the year 1899, considerably more pupils than usual will probably leave us at the end of the year, and the school may to some extent suffer numerically. The exodus will not, however, be an unmixed evil, for I anticipate that the problems of organisation and classification will be much simplified in the coming year.

The appointment of a student teacher in the school for the Blind has improved conditions in that department. The limited school experience of the children now forming the senior class has been responsible for a temporary lowering of the standard of attainments; but there has been no lowering of the quality of the teaching work, and in all classes and subjects, the results have been very creditable. This applies to manual as well as intellectual subjects; and the general attitude and work of the children evidence the quality of the instruction given. There has been further improvement in the singing of the children, and Miss Scouler's work with her pianoforte pupils has been good and successful. Miss Moffatt's pupils also have done well. The blind school owes much to the skill and devotion of Miss Reid, the Senior Teacher, and her work with Alice Betteridge, our deaf-blind child, has been as successful as in former years. Alice's progress continues excellent, and her present attainments are remarkable. Her language is full and free, and she makes a perfect use of both literary and colloquial forms. Her advance and development in all directions have been decided. Her literary work is admirable; she is making steady progress in Geography and History; her general knowledge is extensive, varied and accurate. Her sensitive fingers continue to turn out manual work of most excellent quality. I can add but little to what I have already reported with regard to Miss Reid's work with Alice. It has this year been characterised by all the good qualities that I have previously noted; and the result, as shown in Alice's present intellectual condition, speaks for itself. Miss Gladys McIntyre has continued her useful voluntary work with the blind children's elocution class.

Physical training has again received the attention it merits; and all the teachers have done good work with their squads. The physical exercises are performed with smartness and precision, and the physical work in both schools is highly satisfactory. Organised games have again been followed, and no comment on our physical work would be complete without a reference to the highly successful Children's Sports held in October last on the Sports Ground of the Sydney Grammar School, again generously lent for the purpose. The evidence the Sports presented of the extent to which the physical side of our work is carried, and the excellent results achieved, is of the utmost value. I would here express my warm appreciation of the splendid work of the teachers in their preparation of the children for the Sports. Our deaf boys have this year competed in the Senior Grade of the Public Schools cricket and football competitions, and have more than held their own. In football they did particularly well, taking the second place in the competition, and losing only one match throughout the whole of the season. I place a high value on Mr. Love's services with the cricket and football teams as sports master.

Our little School Magazine has been continued, and there are many indications that it serves a useful purpose.

Meetings of the teaching staff have continued, and subjects of educational and professional interest have been usefully discussed.

It is a pleasure to be able to report that the work of the teachers has been carried out with the same commendable spirit that I have noted in previous years. The demands made on them are, from the nature of their work, greater than those on any other classes of teachers. Their work is more continuous and arduous, and requires in a special measure the exercise of all the qualities looked for in the make-up of the teacher. Their attitude towards their work, the manner in which their educational duties have been performed, and their interest in and work for the children out of school hours, alike call for praise. The senior teachers, Mr. Byrne and Miss Beaumont in the Deaf school, and Miss Reid in the Blind, have carried out their responsible duties with loyalty and zeal, and have rendered me most valuable assistance. Mr. Haylett, too, has in special directions given me most willing and useful help; and without further individualising I can say that the teaching staffs of both schools have devoted themselves loyally and unsparingly, and with an increasing measure of success, to their difficult and most valuable work.

The domestic affairs of the Institution have, under the capable control of the Matron, Mrs. Clarke, gone on well and satisfactorily. Mrs. Clarke continues to demonstrate her abilities in her special work, and her care of the children, in health and in sickness, has been praiseworthy as ever.

In conclusion, I ask you to accept an expression of my appreciation of your continued consideration, and of the full support you have given me in my efforts to advance the work for which the Institution exists. There is abundant evidence that the labours of the past few years are producing steadily improving results, and the measure of success already attained constitutes the promise of further and greater success. I look with confidence to the future for continual progress and development.

I beg to remain, Gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

HAROLD EARLAM,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

(Copy.)

NEW SOUTH WALES INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB AND THE BLIND.

Visited 15th, 16th and 17th September, 1915.

Concerning the domestic management of this Institution nothing new is to be recorded. Evidences are abundant that as a residential establishment it has suffered no abatement of its former excellence. Apart from the cleanliness and order which are manifest to the casual visitor, the physical condition and the cheerfulness of the children furnish undeniable testimony.

Building accommodation and conveniences remain practically the same as last year. The use of the open-air class-rooms (6) has met with so much favour that the extensive scheme of new school accommodation referred to in previous reports has been temporarily set aside. Necessarily the teaching groups are small, and open-air work is found to be in every way beneficial. Equipment of the class-rooms is more complete. Numerous teaching aids—drawings and devices which appeal to the eye—have been supplied for the deaf and are tributes to the zeal and thoughtful interest of the teachers. Montessori apparatus has been applied for, but is not at present procurable. For the blind the provision of relief maps has materially enhanced the teaching of geography and history. The best of these maps are those made by the teachers, the reason being that only details desired to be taught are put into the maps.

Gratifying progress has been made with the school garden, which is now a real educational factor. Separate plots have been allotted to the several classes, and special plots have been reserved for experimental work. A good crop of wheat which occupies one small area, must do more to make the children realise the source of their main food supply than much lesson-giving. Not only are the pupils getting nature knowledge at first hand, but they have daily incentives to language effort. The girls are specially interested in flower culture and are delighted to talk about their favourite blossoms. There is room for further extension of this agency, particularly in the direction of experimental culture with manures.

From school statistics supplied by the Superintendent we take the following as being of special interest:—

Deaf School.

Enrolled: 61 boys, 49 girls, 110 total; 13 classes, 12 teachers.
Present: 60 boys, 45 girls, 105 total.

Blind School.

Enrolled: 17 boys, *9 girls, 26 total; 6 classes. 4 teachers.
Present: 17 boys, 9 girls, 26 total.

* Including the deaf-blind pupil, Alice Betteridge.

Four special teachers attend to give instruction to the deaf in wood-work, boot-repairing, fancy needlework, and cookery.

Of 13 deaf children admitted this year the age-average was 8 years 8 months; last year the average for 12 children was 9½ years. Of 8 blind children admitted this year the age-average was 9 years 2 months; last year the average for 7 children was 11¼ years.

The age-averages of pupils in the lowest classes are at present: Deaf, 7 years 5 months; blind, 8 years 5 months.

While it is some satisfaction to note that the age of admission is apparently getting lower each year, there is in the general position little room for jubilation. At least two years of education are lost—years the most valuable for speech-training—and education for these children is in a special sense preparation for life; it is almost life itself. Then the Superintendent knows of several children of school age who are not being educated at all, and whose parents or guardians have turned a deaf ear to his appeals. Thus cases of retardation and cases of absolute neglect alike cry out for the application of compulsory measures.

Government.

The teachers treat the children with sufficient firmness, but with such consideration and kindness as to win their affection. The children's anxiety to please, their prompt obedience, their responsiveness to instruction, and their general good conduct are all evidences in this direction. There is in most of the classes a brightness and alertness more pronounced than in previous years. We understand, too, that records regularly made, prove tangible physical development. Drill and organised games are practised daily, while in sports competitions with other schools the deaf children, at least, fully hold their own.

Instruction.

To come into mental contact with these defectives, while very interesting to the student of child nature, makes one very sensible of the qualities and limitations of the teacher's task. The exact nature of the impressions formed in the child's mind by attempts at presentation must remain "greatly dark." The blind receive their impressions mainly through language and the sense of touch. But the language is that of the person who can see used to create images in the minds of the sightless, while the sense of touch can at best give only half realization of the truth. Yet these children in imitation of their teachers talk of what they would "see" at the Circular Quay, and state in their composition exercises that the orange is yellow and the apple red. Their memories must be excellent, for they tell of things which have been described to them in words which would be used by the fully-sensed, and their play of imagination must be even greater. They delight in poetry, the most imaginative form of language. Their voices are usually melodious and they are very free of speech.

The deaf, on the other hand, find their greatest obstacle to the acquisition of correct ideas in language difficulty. While they may have very exact realization of much that they see, they are troubled with every attempt of the teacher at word picturing, and are much perplexed with words having several meanings or shades of meaning. Freed by their infirmity from the perplexities of sound, they have little trouble with spelling. "Congh" and "dough" are not anomalies to them, and so within the limits of their vocabulary they are good spellers. All abstractions necessarily prove puzzling. The teacher of the older boys striving to explain the significance of the war-loan, found the term "interest" a cause of stumbling; they had referred to things seen as being of interest, and could not grasp the new application of the same group of letter forms. Ordinary language is often more or less figurative, the figure being sometimes involved in a single word, and so even simple expressions are apt to be misunderstood. For this reason the deaf can be approached at first only through stereotyped forms, very simple, direct, and appealing to the eye. Yet the ultimate aim for those who enter school young enough, and who remain long enough, is free speech with lip-reading. While such speech is but the mechanical adaptation of the voice organs to the production of sounds, it is well known that the speech can be developed not merely for casual use but so that conversation may be carried on quite freely with a person fully-sensed.

Thus each school presents its own problems, added to which are problems special to each group, and sometimes to the individual. It is very clear that for purposes of literary acquirement, speech stimulated by imagination possesses distinct advantages over sight with imperfect expression. The blind are more easily taught than the deaf, and make more rapid school progress. Physically, however, the deaf are superior, and there are, of course, more things that they can do. They are much less "from the cheerful ways of men cut off." They play cricket and enter into football competitions.

The School for the Deaf.

The same classification of the deaf children, previously noted, is retained. Those who are not only deaf, but whose mental powers are weak, are taught in two groups, where manual signs, blackboard work, pictures and other concrete aids are largely used. It is noted that in these classes are many of the older boys who unfortunately came rather late under school influences.

The teaching is wisely directed mainly to the acquisition of language, the final aim being speech with lip-reading. No signs excepting those which really denote language are allowed. In the early stages good use is made of pictures and other useful aids increase of which is noted with approval. Writing on blackboards or in books is the chief vehicle of instruction. The more advanced pupils write fairly long compositions with commendable expression. Spelling continues to be good. The handwriting is as good as in previous years, but training in technique needs more attention. A definite scheme of letter-drill and copy is recommended, with short daily exercises when the whole thought will be centred on letter forms and combinations—not divided by attention to spelling or expression. Pencil work is still too much used in some classes. The children show quite as good a knowledge of geography and history as can be expected, and Scripture stories are also known. Moral Training is abundantly evident in all the work. No subject shows more progress than nature study; of this the garden and notes kept by the pupils give practical evidence. A new departure is the school excursion; a recent trip to the mountains must have been a revelation.

It cannot be said that number work shows much improvement, and there are cases where the mechanical difficulties have not been overcome; this does not, however, apply to the older pupils, whose progress is marked. It is desirable that classes should get more practice in the adding combinations and in the multiplication tables, so that in the solution of problems mechanical difficulties may not interfere with thought and accuracy. Notwithstanding weaknesses, skilful teaching of the subject was observed.

Art Work.—In previous reports very favourable comment has been made regarding the variety, quality, and general value of the art work. This year our good opinion has been endorsed by Mr. J. E. Branch, Superintendent of Drawing, who states that "the visible results throughout are excellent."

The School for the Blind.

The pupils are grouped mainly according to their facility in using the Braille. The reading is accurate and it is evident that the children grasp the meaning intelligently, even though the precise mental impression may be in doubt. They write from dictation with ease and correct spelling; the written composition is good. Recitation of poetry is specially enjoyed, the selections being creditable to the teachers; training in elocution is given by Miss G. McIntyre, a visiting teacher. Hesitancy of speech is rare and the pupils show keen interest in such subjects as history, civics and geography. World heroes appeal largely to their imagination; at present Napoleon Bonaparte has prominence. Current civics they apparently find not so easy to grasp. Geography teaching is materially aided by the relief maps to which reference has already been made; and it has been possible to get the pupils to have ideas of north, south, east and west, generally and in regard to their immediate surroundings. Tests show that in the subjects named and in general knowledge they have been carefully and well taught. Ordinary mental arithmetic is understood and simple problems are solved accurately and with ease. Singing is sweet and is a source of enjoyment in school and out. Miss Secular is the pianiste. The selections show considerable taste. Several of the children are learning instrumental music.

The deaf-blind girl, Alice Betteridge, is still the wonder of the school. Her mental development continues and she is skilful with her fingers. She has knitted beautifully a pair of socks for a soldier "at the front."

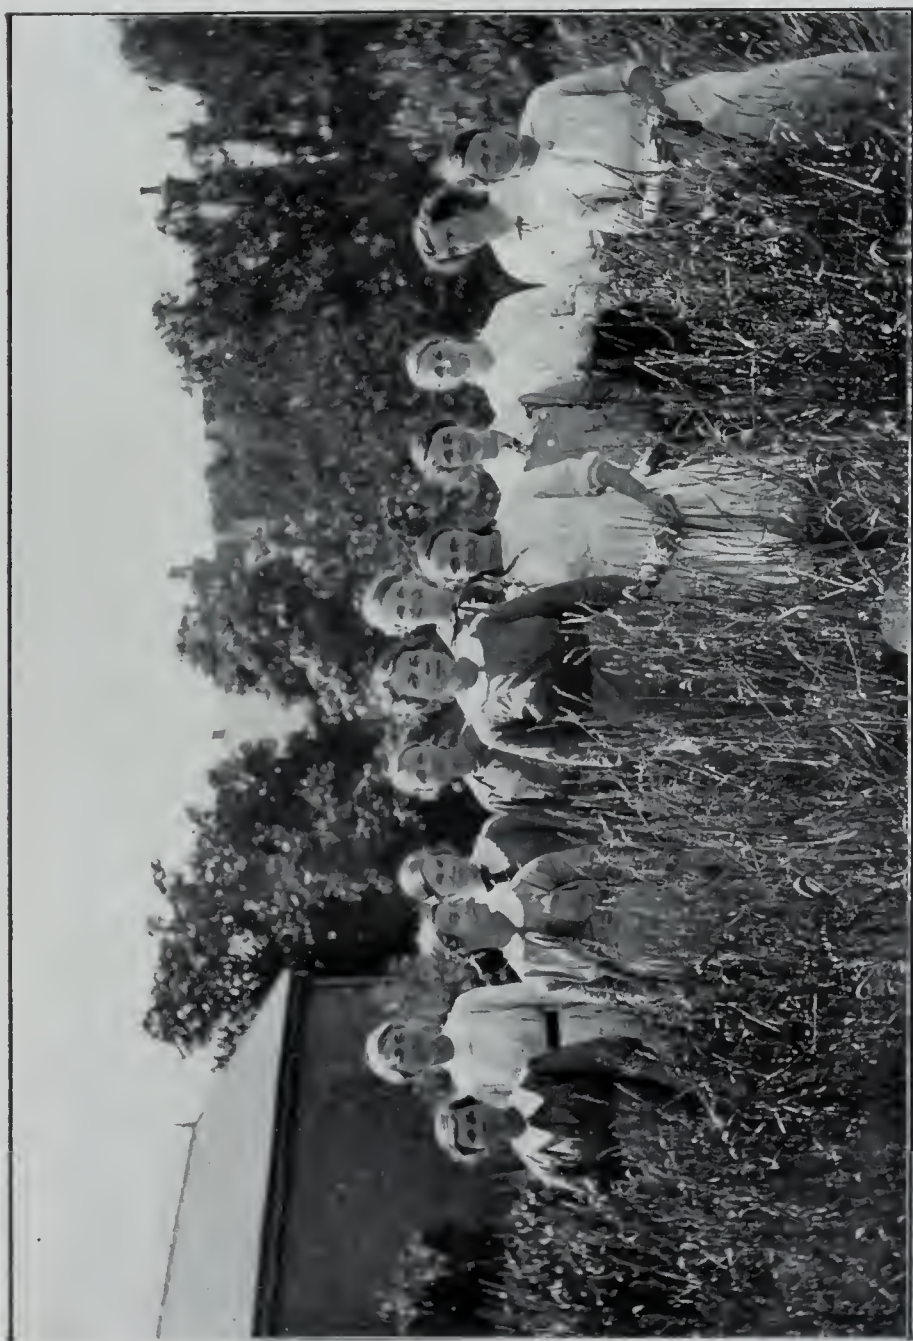

Manual Training.

The practice of taking ordinary school subjects in the mornings only and devoting the afternoons to some form of handwork, has been continued, with excellent results. All the various forms of work enumerated in our last report are still practised and many of them show development. The woodwork of the older deaf boys, under the guidance of Mr. R. Sell, well maintains its high quality and usefulness. Boot-repairing has been extended, under Mr. W. Roberts, a visiting expert, all repairs for the Institution being now done by the boys. 700 pairs of boots have been repaired during the year, the approximate saving being £65. The Needlework of the deaf girls continues to be worthy of high praise. As in the case of ordinary schools, the influence of the war is seen in increase of knitting, particularly the knitting of socks. Mrs. Earlam still voluntarily gives instruction to the senior girls in many kinds of fancy work; specimens seen were both beautiful and useful.

Nothing is more surprising than the skilful work of the blind children. The girls sew really well and do crochet-work and knitting. The pair of socks knitted entirely by Alice Betteridge compares more than favourably with any we have ever seen. In addition both girls and boys make useful articles with string, raffia, cane, canvas and wool.

Staff and General Management.

Last year we spoke in high terms of the whole-hearted devotion of the staff to their work and their self-sacrificing efforts for their pupils. The same devotion to duty is still apparent. All the teachers seem to feel personally responsible for the physical, mental, and moral development of their charges; and the teaching groups are wisely so small that each child becomes an individual study. The consequence is a raising of the standard of the whole, and so the teachers get the reward they so richly deserve. During our visit we noted much skilful teaching. The teachers, recognising that the same principles underlie all education, have studied general method as well as subsidiary devices which bear upon their own peculiar task.

SENIOR DEAF GIRLS.

BLIND CHILDREN AT PLAY.

Evidently, too, they find time and inclination to further their own culture, and keep themselves in contact with the outside world of thought. Mr. Love is to be congratulated on attaining his B.A. degree at the Sydney University. There are now three graduates on the staff. Two additional teachers have been employed this year, one with the deaf and one with the blind. Miss Bromley's retirement has led to the appointment of Miss Thorn, a skilful teacher with English experience; Miss Nicholson, under Miss Reid's able supervision, gives good promise of usefulness.

Mr. Earlam's management is a record of continued progress. Knowing all the difficulties, his experience and training enable him to guide his staff in grappling with them. But he is not merely a specialist, he is an expert educationist. The successful work of the Institution is his best tribute.

SUPERINTENDENT OF DRAWING.

Department of Public Instruction,

29th September, 1915.

TO THE DIRECTORS.

Gentlemen.—Yesterday afternoon I visited the schools of the Deaf and Blind Institute and inspected the Art Work and the teaching of it.

The programme of Art as drawn up by Mr. Earlam is as nearly perfect as possible, the only improvements I could suggest would be in the nature of additions and advances.

The actual visible results, the drawings in pencil, dry colour and water-colour from reality, memory and imagination as well as the Modelling, were excellent throughout.

The greatest value must be attached to the educative treatment of the work by the teachers. They are well versed in the reasons and aims.

I intend to devote half a day next week to helping the teachers through any difficulties they have found.

I have the honor to be, Sirs,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN E. BRANCH.

REPORT OF SPEECHES AND PROCEEDINGS AT THE FIFTY-FOURTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

of the

NEW SOUTH WALES INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB AND THE BLIND,

Held at the Institute for the Adult Deaf, City Road, Darlington, on Monday, October 25, 1915, at 3 p.m.

Present: Mr. W. H. Simpson, J.P., President, in the chair; Sir Philip Sydney Jones, Mr. R. Chadwick, Vice-Presidents; Mr. F. Phillips, Hon. Treasurer; Mr. Wm. Rigg, Hon. Secretary; Mr. A. Halloran, Mr. F. Grimley, Mr. A. H. Love, Mr. Robt. Vicars, Mr. M. W. Oldham, Mr. F. H. Renss, Directors; Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Manson, Mrs. Rigg, Miss Robinson, Mrs. Shand, Members of the Ladies' Visiting Committee; and a large number of subscribers and friends.

The Secretary read the advertisement convening the meeting, and announced the regret of the Governor at his inability to attend.

Copies of the 54th Annual Report and Balance-sheets having been distributed among the audience, it was unanimously resolved that they be taken as read.

The President (Mr. W. H. Simpson) moved,—“That the Report be adopted, and, together with the Balance-sheets, etc., be printed for circulation.” He said: I have much pleasure in moving the adoption of the annual report, which is the 54th issued since the foundation of the Institution in 1861. The work then commenced in a small rented house in Pitt-street has grown year by year until it fills the splendid building now the property of the Institution.

The number of children in attendance at the time of our last annual meeting was 140, since admitted 25, and left 27, the number now being 138. It is gratifying to know that of those who left the majority found employment at carpentering and cabinet-making, tailoring, boot-repairing, farm work, etc. One blind boy on leaving received school prizes amounting to £30. He bought a piano with the money and is now learning piano-tuning and repairing. It has always been the especial care of the Directors that the children on leaving should have some definite employment to enable them to earn their living honourably, and as far as possible on equal terms with other children, and in this respect they have been successful.

The Hon. Arthur Griffith, Minister for Education, kindly allowed Inspectors Beavis and Parkinson to examine the children on the 15th, 16th and 17th September. As usual the work was thoroughly carried out and their report, as appended, is very satisfactory. Not only in their studies but also in their sports the pupils make a good record, holding their own in cricket, football, and other games with boys from public schools.

The financial statement will be made by the Treasurer. I may state this Institution, like others of a benevolent character, has felt the effect of the war in reduced contributions and increased cost of maintenance.

The valuable work of the Superintendent, Mr. Earlam, and his staff of teachers, is greatly appreciated by the Board; we believe their work is of such excellence as to place the Institution in the first class of its kind in Australia, and when we consider their arduous and difficult task of training and instructing these afflicted children the results obtained are wonderful. With these remarks I beg to move the adoption of the annual report.

Sir Philip Sydney Jones (Vice-President), in seconding the motion for the adoption of the Report, mentioned that the pupils had acquitted themselves very creditably indeed in the physical exercises, games, cricket, etc. He said that scientific proof of the physical development of the children was afforded by an annual inspection of each child by the Honorary Medical Inspector, Dr. Rennie, who reported that the results of his examination were very satisfactory and indicated a distinct general improvement. Good health and mental development went hand in hand, and if the children could be kept in good physical health, they were indirectly, but very materially, advanced in the power of acquiring knowledge.

He stated that the much-discussed question of compulsory education of the deaf and dumb and the blind was referred to at a recent interview with Mr. Griffith, the Minister for Education, and the Board was assured that the Government had fully determined to make the education of the deaf and the blind compulsory. The Board had been pointing out to successive Governments the importance and absolute necessity of introducing such a measure, and are therefore much gratified at the prospect of its speedy realisation. Sir Philip drew attention also to an interview with the Minister for Education, brought about by some adverse comments on the Institution reported by one of the evening papers. It was felt necessary to ask the Minister to see a deputation of the Directors and enable them to correct the mistakes in the report referred to, to point out the complete equipment which the Institution possesses for imparting a sound education to the children. The Minister listened very courteously to the statements that were made, thanked the members of the deputation for the information that they had given him, and said he would ask them to see him again when he came to some conclusion, particularly as to the question of compulsory education. The deputation pointed out to him that the Institution had an excellent staff of teachers, quite a number of whom were especially skilled in the teaching of speech-reading.

The Board had taken into consideration the question of rendering assistance to soldiers returning from the war deprived of sight or hearing, and a Sub-Committee had been formed, which, on enquiry, found that the Red Cross Society had made arrangements with the Industrial Blind Institution of Sydney to deal with all cases of soldiers who returned blind, that Institution having every facility for giving them instruction in suitable industries and in reading and writing Braille. The report of the Sub-Committee had been unanimously adopted by the Board and it had been determined that every possible assistance should be given to deaf soldiers to learn speech-reading. The staff, which was so skilled in this special branch of work, had volunteered to give their services outside of the ordinary school hours to this good work. The Board was extremely grateful and proud that the teachers were so patriotic as to make this offer.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

It was moved by Mr. Fred. Phillips, and seconded by Mr. Robert Chadwick, "That the thanks of this Meeting are hereby given to the Government and Parliament for the annual donation of £450, in aid of the funds of the institution."

Mr. Phillips said that the donation of £450 by the Government was a valuable adjunct to the funds, more especially at this time of stress, when the subscriptions had somewhat fallen off. Unfortunately the cost of living had increased.

although the institution had been safeguarded to some extent by the annual contracts, which were not subject to any variation in prices. In addition to the grant of £450, the Government had assisted by payment for maintenance and tuition of children whose parents were too poor to undertake that responsibility.

The resolution was carried.

Mr. A. Halloran moved and Mr. F. H. Reuss seconded,—“That the following gentlemen be members of the Board of Directors for the ensuing year:—W. H. Simpson, Esq., J.P., President; Sir Philip Sydney Jones and Robert Chadwick, Esq., J.P., Vice-Presidents; Fred. Phillips, Esq., Hon. Treasurer; William Rigg, Esq., J.P., Hon. Secretary; Dr. T. Storie Dixon, Thomas S. Holt, Esq., Robert Vicars, Esq., and Marcus W. Oldham, Esq., J.P., Directors (to fill vacancies). And that the following do constitute the Medical Staff: George E. Rennie, Esq., M.D., F.R.C.P., Hon. Consulting Physician and Hon. Medical Inspector; Charles P. B. Clubbe, Esq., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., Hon. Consulting Surgeon; J. C. Halliday, Esq., M.B., Ch.M., F.R.C.S., Hon. Ophthalmic Surgeon; John B. Graham, Esq., M.D., M.Ch., Hon. Aural Surgeon; P. Sydney Jones, Esq., M.B., Ch.M., and E. Selwyn Harrison, Esq., M.B., Ch.M., Hon. Physicians; A. G. Gabriel, Esq., and Henry E. Walker, Esq., Hon. Dentists.”

Mr. Halloran said that in proposing these gentlemen as Directors and Members of the Honorary Medical Staff, he had the utmost confidence that they would do their work during this coming year as they had done in the past. He felt that in electing men to fill high responsible positions they should be men who had the confidence of the public, and especially men who had the confidence of the Government. He was sure that the gentlemen nominated for office realised that the deaf and the blind children should be given equal opportunities for education to those enjoyed by children having all their faculties. He pointed out the necessity of influencing the Government to pass such legislation as would make it compulsory for afflicted children to attend schools to obtain education. This was necessary for two reasons. Firstly, because of the benefit which would be derived by the afflicted children from such legislation, and secondly, because of the ensuing good to the general public. He said that it was the duty of the Directors to do their work so well that the Government would never interfere in anything that was already well done by charitable organisations, especially in an organisation such as this, which was subject to Government inspection.

Another duty of the Directors was to see that the gifts and legacies were to be kept safe, so that the donors could have every confidence that gifts to charitable institutions would not be interfered with by the Government or anybody else. At that moment many charitably disposed people were most anxiously awaiting the decision of Parliament in regard to the trust moneys of another charitable institution. He hoped that the public, the generous public, would now support the gentlemen who had been proposed as officers of this institution, by helping them in finance and other ways, and that the work they were so ably carrying out would receive the generous support that it rightly deserved.

Mr. Reuss, in seconding the motion, said that he was very well acquainted with all the Directors. No better body of men could have been selected to watch and further the interests of this institution.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Grimley, in moving a vote of thanks to the honorary staff for their services during the past year, said that among the great advantages that the students of this institution received was the attention of some of the most eminent professional gentlemen to be found in the country. Many of them had served the institution for many years. It was no light duty that had been placed upon them, for during the past year 165 pupils had received the care and attendance of those highly qualified gentlemen.

The institution, in common with the whole community, owed a deep debt of gratitude to these gentlemen.

Mr. Vicars said that he had great pleasure in seconding the resolution. The gentlemen who acted in this capacity, not only in this institution, but in many others in the city, did a very great service indeed to those whom they attended. He thought that the value of their service was often overlooked. The services of these gentlemen saved the institution a great deal of money, and, what was a great deal more important, they saved the community a great deal in human value, viz., many valuable lives. The scope for enjoyment in the life of a pupil was very small. These professional gentlemen improved the health of the pupils, and thus doubled their capacity for enjoying the life that they had to lead. The pupils were without many of the advantages that the hale and strong enjoyed every day, therefore whatever was done to make their lives happier and more pleasant would not only be a benefit to them, but also to the State.

The vote of thanks was carried by acclamation.

Mr. C. E. Burne moved that "A vote of thanks be accorded to the Directors, Ladies' Committee and Officers of the Institution for their services during the past year." This was seconded by Mr. F. Glynn and carried unanimously.

Mr. Burne said: I have very much pleasure in moving this vote of thanks for these ladies and gentlemen. I view the work they are doing as an object of Christianity. They are going about to do all the kindness they can. They feel how pleasant it is to do so, and I consider they are simply following the command of our Master. It is a Christian action; Christianity is spreading throughout the world, and Australia is not behind.

Mr. Glynn said: I have great pleasure in seconding that resolution, and echo all the sentiments of the last speaker. What surprises me is that the Government should delay to assist this Committee to bring about compulsory education for the Deaf and the Blind. As a prominent supporter of the present administration, I can promise this Committee that, if it will do them any good, I will try and assist them through the medium of the Sydney Labor Council. I recognise the great and noble work done by this Institution, and if I can assist the Committee in any way by bringing their objects before the Labor bodies I will be most happy to do so. Carried by acclamation.

Mr. William Rigg, in responding, said: I have listened with very much pleasure to the remarks made by the proposer and seconder of this resolution, especially on the matter of free education to deaf and blind children. The subject has engaged the attention of the Board for many years past. When Mr. Beeby was Minister for Education he informed the Directors that he decidedly was in favor of a free education for them, and intended to bring in a Bill for compulsory attendance. Until this was done he authorised us to take in as many pupils as our buildings would accommodate, for which the Government would pay. Unfortunately there was a change of portfolios and Mr. Beeby went out of office. Mr. Carmichael was appointed in his stead, and I waited on that gentleman at the request of my co-directors, to explain the arrangement entered into. Mr. Carmichael said he would enquire into the matter and asked me to see him later on, which I did, and he then told me that he fully endorsed all that had been done by Mr. Beeby. Pupils have been admitted in accordance with that arrangement, and although the account for fees has been sent in to the Department, no payment has yet been made. I understand the new Minister (Hon. A. Griffith) has now the matter in hand.

Leaving myself out of the question, and speaking on behalf of my co-directors, the good opinions which have been expressed and the kind remarks which have been made in proposing this vote of thanks are fully deserved by the Directors, and the subscribers ought to feel extremely grateful for their valuable services. The Board is composed of well-known and distinguished gentlemen representing the medical and legal professions as well as prominent members of various sections of the commercial community, who willingly give their services without fee or reward of any kind. It is therefore due to them to at least acknowledge their invaluable services. To the Ladies' Committee the Board is under a heavy obligation; their assistance in the domestic concerns of the Institution is much appreciated and goes a long way towards doing all that is possible for the comfort and well-being of the children.

The Superintendent, Mr. Earlam, has been most conscientious in the discharge of his heavy and responsible duties, doing all that is possible to meet the wishes of his Directors towards bringing the standard of the Institution at all events equal to any of its kind throughout the British Empire. How far he has succeeded a glimpse at the report of the Inspectors from the Education Department will show. The pupils are progressing well, mentally and physically, due in a great measure to the care and thoughtful attention of Mr. Earlam.

The Matron, Mrs. Clarke, possesses exceptional qualifications for the position, and is untiring in contributing to the comfort and happiness of the little ones committed to her care. The parents owe much to her for the care and attention they receive. The staff generally show the utmost interest in the welfare of the Institution outside their own particular duties; for instance, they have assisted very materially in obtaining liberal contributions towards the Australia Day and other War Funds, besides volunteering their services towards educating soldiers who may return from the war deprived of sight or hearing.

On behalf of the Directors I thank you for the compliment.

Mr. A. E. Johns moved a vote of thanks to the Chairman, which was seconded by Mr. Rigg and carried by acclamation.

In reply the Chairman mentioned the fact that he had been a member of the Board of Directors for about thirty years, and during the past year, as Chairman, he had attended every meeting of the Board. He also referred to a suggestion of the Superintendent which had been carried out, and had proved most successful, viz., the erection of half-a-dozen pavilions in the grounds which were used for open-air teaching.

The singing of the National Anthem terminated the meeting.

COLLECTIONS BY FRIENDS.

INFORMATION AND DIRECTIONS RELATIVE TO THE ADMISSION OF CHILDREN TO THE INSTITUTION.

1. Applications must be in writing, addressed to the Secretary, sent before the child is brought to the Institution, and should contain as full information as possible. The necessary forms can be obtained of the Hon. Secretary.
2. Pupils are admissible from any part of the State of New South Wales, and, under certain conditions, from other States.
3. No child deficient in intellect, subject to fits, or unable to wash and dress itself, can be considered a fit subject for admission; and no child, whose conduct or habits are deemed by the officers to be objectionable, will be allowed to remain in the Institution.
4. No child shall be admitted of an age younger than five years, nor older than twelve years, unless under special circumstances, to be decided by the Board.
5. No order will be given by the Secretary for a child's admission until the medical certificate has been obtained, and it must be understood that no children are eligible for admission until every means have been tried for restoring their sight or hearing, as the case may be.
6. Children, on entering the Institution, are required to have two complete suits of clothing for school or week-day wear, to be of dark colour, and a better suit for Sunday, and to be provided with clothing (see list) by their parents and friends during their residence. Each child must be provided with a box or trunk, in which to keep clothing when clean. If £5 be remitted, the Board will purchase an outfit on admission.
7. Any amounts remitted to the Secretary for the purchase of clothing will be expended under the direction of the Board of Directors.
8. School fees vary according to the circumstances of the parents; the highest fee is £40 a year. If the parents are not able to pay that amount, a smaller fee will be accepted.
9. In the case of children whose parents are unable to pay any fees, a certificate of their inability to pay must be obtained from known individuals.
10. Fees are payable in advance, and date from the time of admission.
11. Children cannot be permitted to leave the Institution unless with the direct sanction and authority of the Board of Directors.
12. In addition to the ordinary scholastic subjects, every child in the Institution receives some form of manual training, further particulars of which are given on the previous page.
13. The vacations are 6 weeks at Christmas and 3 weeks at midwinter; and it is essential that pupils should return to the Institution on the day fixed to commence duties after each vacation, "and with their clothing clean and in proper order." (See list.)
14. Pupils are expected to remain in the Institution until they attain the age of 16 years, and except under very special circumstances, no child will be allowed to remain after attaining this age. The attention of parents is specially drawn to this in the hope that they will realise the necessity for sending their children to school at an early age. Failure to do this means depriving the children of at least a portion of their education.
15. Except under special circumstances children will only be admitted at two periods of the year, viz., in January and July.
16. It is requested that all communications be addressed to
WILLIAM RIGG, Hon. Secretary,
City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

“The object of this Institution is the education and maintenance and, as far as practicable, the advancement in life of deaf and dumb and blind children.”

The Institution is open to Subscribers and other Visitors on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 2 to 4 p.m., and at other times on special order from the Honorary Secretary or a Director.

The Parents and Friends of children are admitted once a fortnight, on Thursdays, between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

The children are permitted to leave the Institution to visit their friends once a month, on special written application being made to the Honorary Secretary.

When a case of serious or infectious illness occurs while a pupil is at home, it must be reported to the Hon. Secretary, and the child must not be returned to school until all danger of infection has passed, and a medical certificate to that effect produced.

Forms and all particulars for the admission of pupils can be obtained of the Honorary Secretary.

Subscriptions and donations will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the Treasurer, the Secretary, or at the Institution.

The Meetings of the Board of Directors are held on the Second Monday in each month, at 3 o'clock p.m. The Ladies' Visiting Committee meet at the Institution on the last Friday in each month, at 3 o'clock.

The cost of passages to and from the Institution must be paid by the friends of the pupils, the Board having no fund for this purpose.

All communications to be addressed to Mr. William Rigg, Honorary Secretary, at the Institution, City Road, Darlington, Sydney.

Money orders should be made payable to the Secretary or Treasurer, at the General Post Office, Sydney.

It is highly necessary that the Parents or Friends of children should notify the Secretary of any change of residence, so that, in case of illness, or other cause, immediate communication may be made.

The Public, Subscribers, and friends of the Institution are earnestly entreated to notify the Secretary of the existence in their districts of any Deaf and Dumb or Blind Children, not under instruction, it having been a source of great regret to the Board to find that several children have passed the age of admission, simply from their not having come under the notice of some kind friends who would take the necessary steps to enable them to be brought within the advantages of the Institution.

HINTS TO PARENTS OF BLIND CHILDREN.

Remember that your child is just an ordinary child—deprived of sight—and treat him accordingly. Teach him to walk as soon as you would if he had his sight, and train him to use his limbs. He is dependent on the sense of touch (feeling) for much of the knowledge that is received by other children through the eye; and from the earliest possible time should be taught to observe shapes, sizes, weights, etc., by feeling things, and to find his way about the home and surroundings.

Do not make the mistake of imagining that because your child is blind it is necessary or kind to do almost everything for him. It is quite unnecessary, and, bearing in mind the fact that the more intelligent occupation the child has, and the more he discovers that he can do for himself, the less will he feel the deprivation of sight, it is positively unkind to bring him up in a helpless manner. Let him learn to wash and dress himself, and to attend to his other personal requirements, and to be neat and tidy. Teach him to feed himself, and be as particular over his table behaviour as you would be with a sighted child.

Teach him to walk correctly and carry himself well. Be very careful to check at the very outset any little objectionable mannerism that may show itself. Some blind children have a tendency to facial grimace, screwing the fingers into the eyes, rocking the body backward and forward, or from side to side, and if these practices are not stopped on their appearance they may develop into habits that will require years to eradicate.

Teach your child all the little nursery rhymes, fairy tales and songs that go to make childhood happy, and always endeavour that he may hear only such things as you would like him to remember.

Do not let him feel that his blindness makes him different to other children; but help him to realise that he is just the same as they, and "as good as anybody else." Let him help in all the little domestic operations in which children assist their parents.

Do not discuss his blindness in his presence—and show your sympathy for him not by bemoaning the fact that he is blind, but by helping him, in ways suggested above, and in other ways that will suggest themselves to any intelligent parent, to overcome the disabilities of blindness to the highest possible degree. Do everything necessary to secure his happiness—but remember that the surest way of making him miserable and unhappy is to "spoil" him by placing him outside any form of discipline.

As soon as he is old enough—at 5 years of age or thereabouts—send him to school. There he will be surrounded by people whose lives are devoted to the education and care of children such as he; and it is only there that he will be able to secure the education which will enable him to take his place in the world, and which will supply him with the knowledge and mental development necessary to his personal happiness and advancement.

Do not take your child for examination or treatment to any but a duly qualified medical man. Secure for him the best medical advice obtainable, but on no account go to any "doctor" who has no medical degree. There is grave risk of serious damage resulting from the interference of any unqualified person with such a delicate organ as the eye.

If you act on the lines suggested here, you will be doing much for your child. He will be brighter and happier at home, and when he comes to school he will be in a better position to benefit by the instruction given, and his educational advancement will be more rapid.

PREVENTION OF BLINDNESS.

It has been estimated that 40 per cent. of blindness is due to the disease Ophthalmia Neonatorum, or Infantile Ophthalmia. In other words, it is probable that four out of every ten blind people have lost their sight from this cause.

Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a disease which attacks the eyes of newly-born children, their eyes being infected by the mother during the birth. It is very dangerous and infectious, and unless prompt measures are taken on its appearance, it almost inevitably results in blindness. Sometimes the disease yields to treatment, but in this disease perhaps more than in any other is prevention better than cure.

The attention of parents, midwives and others is called to the following instructions, which, if invariably carried out, would do much towards minimising the amount of blindness in the world, and preserving the inestimable blessing of sight to children whose eyes are attacked by the dread disease Ophthalmia Neonatorum.

1. When a child is born, see that the eyes are carefully and thoroughly washed out. In lying-in institutions and in other cases where there is danger of infection, the midwives should be instructed to instil a drop of one per cent. silver nitrate solution or twenty-five per cent. Argylol solution into the baby's eyes.
2. Especially in the first week or two of the child's life, carefully examine the eyes for signs of inflammation (redness of the eyes or lids, discharge, or swelling).
3. If there is any suggestion of Inflammation, SEND FOR THE DOCTOR. Do not wait to see if the condition of the eye becomes worse—remember that the sight of the child may be imperilled.
4. Previous to the doctor's arrival, wash the child's eyes in clean warm solution of Boracic Acid every quarter of an hour; using clean cotton wool, and being careful not to use the same piece of cotton wool twice, and being also careful not to touch both eyes with one piece.
5. OBEY THE DOCTOR'S INSTRUCTIONS IMPLICITLY. Remember that once the child's sight is destroyed, it can never be regained; and remember, too, that carelessness or failure to properly carry out the doctor's instructions may doom the child to lifelong darkness.

The question of the prevention of blindness from Ophthalmia Neonatorum is a big medical, social and political problem. Other phases of the subject may be referred to at a later date.
